

SOZO TESTIMONIALS

“My name is Jason W. My sobriety date is January 17, 2016. I came into SOZO completely beat down. I had no self-worth or self-esteem. I had lost my family. I had lost the will to live. I wanted “out” and didn’t care what “out” meant.

I had been to a faith-based program before and I had a belief in Christ. So, why did I go back “out there” for another go around? If I believed in Jesus Christ as my savior, how did I fall so hard? Because “faith without works is dead” and I had not fully surrendered to a life of positive action in recovery. So, that’s what I was like when I came into SOZO. After only four short months my life is miraculously better. I work a program of recovery that I learned at SOZO. My faith has been boosted like never before. I am much more calm today and I have a “recovery toolbox” that helps me to accept and respect people, places and things just as they are.

A sober life is the only way for me. I have regained the love and trust of my wife, children and employer. I am taking responsibility for my life and, one day at a time, I continually strive to do the next right thing.

I give all of the praise and glory to God in heaven.

J. W.
